

Mulligan Concept Comes to China

Brian Mulligan visited China for the very first time, bringing along Mulligan Concept with him. A one day seminar on Mulligan Concept was held on the 21st May 2011. It was hosted by Reignwood Group at their very own Pine Valley Wellness Centre located in Beijing.

Pine Valley Wellness Centre is Beijing's first one stop total health care solution that offers health promotion, private doctors, rehabilitation, anti-aging and other specialty services.

This is China's first contact with Mulligan Concept but it received good response with an attendance of approximately 30 participants. Sports scientists and rehabilitation therapists from top universities and hospitals in Beijing attended the one day seminar. Translation was done by Sam Li, a New Zealand Registered Physiotherapist who is Head of the Rehabilitation Department at Pine Valley Wellness Centre. He was also responsible for organizing the seminar.

This is China's first contact with Mulligan Concept but showed a great interest in it. Participants welcomed this fresh concept with enthusiasm. The seminar received good feedback from participants with hope that more seminars will be held in the near future.

Brian Mulligan (center) with Sam Li (left) and Henry Yu (right), Manager of Pine Valley Wellness Centre.

Group photo with participants

Brian Mulligan demonstrating techniques with participants

Brian Mulligan interacting with participants

Brian Mulligan demonstrating taping technique